

KEZI

- Home
- News
- Weather
- Sports
- Video
- Greenspace

« Web Extra: Helfrich, Lokombo, Heimuli

Egan Warming Centers Open »

Advocates to Ask for Pesticide Ban

- Local News,
- News

by KEZI Staff

Published November 21, 2013

SALEM, Ore. — Lawmakers will be hearing from scientists Thursday, about pesticides and their effect on bees. Bee keepers and those in the agricultural business will be at the special legislative session. They're asking for a ban against pesticides thought to kill bees.

Bee advocates say they'll be delivering a petition that has 12,000 signatures so far. The hearing starts at 2 p.m. in Salem.

RELATED ARTICLES

- Lawmakers to Hold Short Session (0)
- Oregon Restricts Pesticide Use (0)
- Lawmakers Wrap Special Session (0)
- Researchers Creating Bee Sensor (1)
- Swallows Killed Due to Weather (0)
- Salem Man Struck by Car on I-5 (0)